

COURSE DESCRIPTION 2017-2018

Course: English Level 2 Functional Skills	Awarding body: OCR
Tutor:	Course length: 16 weeks

Course summary/aims:	During this course, you will make a range of contributions to discussions in various contexts and produce a presentation. You will develop your reading skills by comparing various texts and you will also write a range of texts, including extended written documents.
Course objectives:	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Prepare a presentation and hold a discussion, based on an unfamiliar subject, with a selected group of people. 2. Present written information and ideas concisely, logically and persuasively using a range of writing styles for different purposes. 3. Use a range of sentence structures, including complete sentences to organise written communication effectively. 4. Select and use different texts to read and summarise information. 5. Detect point of view, implicit meaning and the purpose of texts and comment on how meaning is conveyed.
Course content:	The Functional Skills programmes are designed around real life problem solving issues. All work is therefore based on real situations. Writing letters, designing a presentation, researching an unfamiliar subject for the discussion and identifying the purpose of a variety of texts are all skills that are used in daily life. These are the skills that will be developed through this course over a 16 week period.
Teaching and learning methods:	Mix of tutor input; individual written tasks; group discussion; quizzes.
Course level/entry requirements:	Learners need to do a short initial assessment to make sure that they are on the right starting point. This course is designed at Level 2 and would be suitable for students who are not ready for the GCSE programme or who cannot commit to the full year of study.

How progress is checked during course:	Regular quizzes and homework will be marked every week. There will also be informal checks during the session. If a learner has a difficulty with a particular element, further revision tasks will be available. Mock tests will also be taken to assist with the checking of progress.
Extra study or practice required at home?	Yes – a small amount of homework will be set each week.
Formal course accreditation? If yes, how is the course assessed?	Yes – assessed formally through three set assessment sessions.
Materials you will need to bring to the course:	Pen and file paper or note book.
What can I do next?	Students who successfully complete the Level 2 Functional Skills programme may want to enrol for the GCSE English course.

Information, Advice and Guidance sessions are available on request (it is best to make an appointment).
